Description:

Review "Using his master skills in story-telling, Mark Sanborn enables us all to see that at the heart of it leadership is really about ordinary people achieving extraordinary things."

-Lois P. Frankel, Ph.D., author of Nice Girls Don't Get the Corner Office

"This book has a quality I admire. It is simple. Not the kind of simple you find in a fortune cookie, but the elegant simplicity that can only be born from experience. I love this little book and strongly recommend it for anyone who wants to be a leader in life."

-Stephen C. Lundin, Big Tuna Ph.D., Co-author of the FISH series

"Mark Sanborn has done it again! This time leadership is his focus and he has delivered a powerful little book that must be on every leader's desk."

-Pat Williams, author, speaker, and Vice President of the Orlando Magic

"Read this book if you want to lead a better life, lead an organization, or lead the way."

-Jeffrey J. Fox, author of Secrets of Great Rainmakers

"Mark has hit a grand-slam with You Don't Need a Title to be a Leader. It will speak to you regardless of your age, profession or position. I am adding it to my "must read list" for my kids, teammates and clients."

-Daniel Harkavy, Head Coach and CEO, Building Champions

"Mark Sanborn has done it again! This time leadership is his focus and he has delivered a powerful little book that must be on every leader's desk."

-Pat Williams, author, speaker, and Vice President of the Orlando Magic

"This book has it all... it's delivers real, usable leadership concepts in an entertaining and captivating way. Don't miss this opportunity... to take your leadership skills to a new, more effective level"

-Rob Mitchell, Chief Development Officer, American Cancer Society

"Everyone of us have the power to shape our lives and influence the lives of others. In this short, powerful book by Mark Sanborn, you'll discover how."

-John C. Maxwell, Author, Speaker and Founder INJOY Stewardship Services and EQUIP

"Mark Sanborn has done it again. Thoughtful principles, illustrated with terrific examples, of what great leaders do to be successful. Must read for people at any level within an organization who want to achieve their professional and personal potential."

-Dave Pelliccioni, Group Vice President, Secretary, and Director, Toyota Motor Credit Corporation

"If you want to learn to lead — or lead better — read this book."

-Marcus Buckingham, author of First, Break All the Rules and Now, Discover Your Strengths

This is an essential leadership development tool for any organization. Everyone has the ability to make a difference...to have an impact regardless of title. Mark's book powerfully motivates, inspires, and gives the right answers to the question "What am I going to do to make a positive difference?" Truly outstanding!

-Julie Marks Miller, Vice President of Training and Leadership Development, ADP, Inc.

"As a CEO, I'm always asking people in my company to show more leadership. I want each one of them to read this book, because Mark Sanborn perfectly articulates the message I want to convey."

-Keith Ferrazzi, author of Never Eat Alone and CEO of marketing and sales consultancy Ferrazzi Greenlight

"I love writers who make leadership an active principle!! Even the title, You Don't Need a Title to be a Leader, tells us to take charge by our actions. Mark Sanborn lets you know that leading involves you DOING something. You gotta read this one."

-Dave Ramsey, Three-time New York Times bestselling author
